1. Overview of the tax-benefit system

Unemployed persons are covered by two successive benefits: a contributory unemployment insurance benefit for 120-to-720 days depending on contributions, then an assistance benefit for 3-to-30 months. (The most common duration of unemployment assistance is 18 months, and for persons over 52 the duration is that necessary to arrive to the age in which he/she starts receiving the contributory retirement pension.) There is also a last resort scheme called the Renta Mínima de Inserción (Minimum Income for Insertion). Family benefits are income-related. The tax unit is the individual; nevertheless family units have the option of filing their tax returns on a joint basis. Finally, there is the programme named Programa de Renta Activa de Inserción (Insertion Active Income Programme), whose objective is to help long-term job seekers, older than 45, among other groups, to re-enter in the labour market. This programme lasts for 11 months.

1.1. Average Worker wage (AW)

According to the Centre for Tax and Policy and Administration, the 2011 AW level is EUR 25 515.¹

¹ AW refers to the Average Wage estimated by the Centre for Tax Policy and Administration (www.oecd.org/ctp). For more information on methodology see Taxing Wages 2009-2010, OECD, 2011, part 4, sections 2 and 3.

2. Unemployment insurance

2.1 Conditions for receipt

Unemployment benefit can be paid to a registered unemployed person aged 16-65, who is available and actively seeking work, and who did not leave his/her previous job voluntarily. Additionally, unemployed persons have to subscribe to a pledge of activity by virtue of which they commit themselves to search actively for a job and to accept a suitable job.

On all the levels of protection by unemployment either the unemployment insurance one or the unemployment assistance one and in their different categories, applicant and beneficiary workers of the benefit by unemployment are obliged to sign and comply with an a "commitment of activity", understanding by such a to look for a job actively, to accept a placement suitable and to take part in actions addressed to raise their employment, in accordance with Law 45/2002, of 12 December (Article Firstly Eleven). This condition must be gathering as a requirement to have the right to any of the benefits considered within the protection system by unemployment.

None

2.1.2 Contribution conditions

A claimant must have contributed for a minimum of 360 days in the 6 years preceding the legal status of unemployment

2.2 Calculation of benefit amount

2.2.1 Calculation of gross benefit

It is 70 per cent of reference earnings for a maximum period of 180 days, then 60 per cent of reference earnings for the remaining period of the benefits (see section 2.4 for the duration of the benefit); reference earnings correspond to the average gross earnings over the last 180 days.

The benefit is limited by a maximum and a minimum that depend on the number of dependent children below age 26. Both are expressed as a percentage of the IPREM (public indicator of incomes of many effects) from 01/07/2004, with an increment of 1/6 (proportional to bonus payment). For 2011, IPREM is EUR 621.26 per month, that is EUR 7455.14 yearly², including in both cases the proportional part of bonus payment.

Family type	In per cent of IPREM*
	Minimum	Maximum

As from 1st June 2002, casual agriculture workers pay the contribution to Social Security for covering the contingency for unemployment and they have the right to receive unemployment benefit. The duration of the allowances depends on the period of contributions having been paid during last six years, and it oscillates between a minimum of 120 days, when the period of contributions has been at least from 360 to 539 days, and a maximum of 720 days, when the period of contributions has been from 2 160 days or more. From 1st June 2002 the covering of the contingency for unemployment is "compulsory".

3. Unemployment assistance

3.1 Conditions for receipt

For those unemployed, who are registered as job seekers, without having refused an offer of a suitable job or having refused to participate, except by reason of a justified cause in actions of promotion, training or professional reconversion and without any income of any kind which exceeds, with respect to monthly computation, 75 per cent of the minimum inter-professional wage, excluding the proportional part of the extra payments, and are in one of the situations described under. It consists of monetary unemployment assistance and the Social Security contribution corresponding to health coverage, family protection, and when appropriate, retirement.

The time and contribution to Social Security depends on the type of subsidy the worker is entitled to. There are the following types:

- Workers who have exhausted their unemployment benefits and have family responsibilities.
- Workers over 45 who have exhausted their unemployment benefits and who do not have family responsibilities.
- Spanish emigrant workers who, having returned from countries not pertaining to the European Economic Area or with which no agreement exists regarding unemployment insurance, can prove having worked a minimum of 12 months in the last six years in said countries since their last departure from Spain, and are not entitled to unemployment benefits.
- Workers who, having the legal unemployment situation, did not meet the minimum contribution period to be eligible for contributory unemployment benefits. In this case the job loss is not voluntary.
- Those released from prison.
- Workers who, after a medical revision, are declared fully capable or partially disabled due to recuperation from a situation of great disability, or absolute or complete permanent disability for usual work.
- Special subsidy for workers over 45 who have exhausted their 24-month unemployment benefits.
- Unemployment subsidy for workers over 52.

Family responsibilities will be understood to mean having to support a spouse and/or children under twenty-six years of age or those who are older and disabled, when the income of household, including that of the applicant, divided by the number of members which make up the household in question, does not exceed 75 per cent of the Minimum Inter-Professional Wage, excluding the proportional part of the extra payments. Apart from the applicant, there should be another member whose earnings were below 75 per cent of the Inter-Professional Wage, excluding the proportional part of the extra payments.

4. Social assistance

There is a minimum income scheme called the Ingreso Mínimo/Renta Mínima de Inserción (Minimum Income for Insertion - MII) implemented in the 17 Autonomous Communities (regions). There is no specific national legislation defining it, but the general principle is to alleviate poverty by means of cash benefits for basic living needs. Each Autonomous Community has its specific law regulating the MII. In the year 2010 the basic amount for the holder of the MII is 418,24 €/per month and the budget spent: 766 731 832.18 €

The number of holders in the year 2010 was: 192633; the number of dependent members: 318662.

The MII consists of periodical subsidies, but with a specific duration (periodical renewal is required), provided that the requisites are maintained and fulfilled the compromise acquired in the corresponding agreement signed for his/her social and labour integration and following the measures of social on-going support established with every claimant.

The monetary amount is annually updated; as well as every year the funds are allocated in the budget through general laws of each Autonomous Community for financing the MII.

The region of Madrid is considered below as being representative:

The basic amount for the holder is 375.55 € per month and the budget spent: 58 985 000 € in the year 2010.

4.1 Conditions for receipt

The claimant must be available and actively seeking work. The minimum age is 25 or less if the claimant has dependants (although it can be 18 in certain regions), and the maximum age is 64 (old-age pension from 65). Qualifying households must pass an income test.

The claimants, who participate in social and labour measures for integration and in the social on-going support measures which are established with each claimant, receive a monthly income supplement.

In the region of Madrid the claimant is older than 25 and younger than 65. He or she has to be registered in the municipality of the region during the previous year of the application, set up an independent nuclear family 6 months previously, and lack of sufficient economic resources to face the basic needs for living.

Qualifying households must pass an income test, and they cannot have incomes in 2011 over the following amounts:

B. One-off lump-sum economic benefit for birth or adoption in the following cases: large families, lone-parent families (see point 9 "Lone-parent benefits") or disabled mothers.

-The same limits for the incomes than in benefit A, with the difference between large families and the rest of the families.

C-Children born in multiple births, if their number is equal to or higher than two, as well as adopted children if their number is equal to or higher than two, originate the entitlement to this benefit. The birth or legalization of the adoption have to take place in Spain, or, if abroad, it should be accredited that the born or adopted child is immediately going to be integrated in the family nucleus residing in Spain.

6.2 Calculation of benefit amount

6.2.1 Calculation of gross benefit

- b) Disabled to a degree of 75 per cent or more and needing the help of another person: EUR 521.40 per month (EUR 6256.80 per year).

The right to entitlement will be the total benefit in the case of disabled children, without having into account the level of family income.

In the case of children no disabled, the right to entitlement will be:

- The receipt of the total benefit, provided it does not exceed the upper limit laid down of – 11264.01 euros/year, increased by 15 per cent, namely 1689.60 euros/year, for each child after the second one. For large families, the limit will be 16953.05 euros when there are 3 dependent children, increasing by 2745.93 euros for each dependent child after and including the fourth child.

The benefit will be reduced if the income is above that specified in the previous item but at the same time below the amount found adding to this figure the amount of the subsidy for the number of children who are not disabled(maximum limit).

The following table allows us to establish the limits for maximum integrated benefit and for maximum income depending on the number of dependent children.

7. Childcare for pre-school children

Pre-primary education is conceived as a single education-oriented level with structural and curricular development similar to the rest of educational levels in Spain. It caters for children from 0 to 6 years and it is divided into two three-year stages. The second stage (children aged 3 to 6) is free of charge both in public and government dependent private schools.

In 2010/2011, the net enrolment rate in pre-primary education is 28,6 % (429.839 children) for the under 3 years and concerns 100,0 % (1,441.153 children) of children from 3 to 5 years (Source: Non-university education Statistics - Provisional data 2010-11. Ministry of Education)

There is also care provision for children outside the education system. In 2010 the 46,7 % of under 3 years children received care provision in an institution outside of their household (Source: Community Statistics on Income and Living Conditions – National Institute of Statistics/Eurostat)

A progressive increase of the places offered for integrated education and care for children aged 0 to 3 and their inclusion in the education system is a measure of the National Reform Program. In this way, the Ministry of Education is developing the Plan Educa3, in order to increase the places offered and their inclusion in the education system. This program will invest 1.087 million Euros between 2008 and 2012. In 2011 101,6 million euros were allocated by the Ministry of Education for Pre-Primary Education for building new pre-primary school and adapting existing schools..

Compulsory schooling starts at age 6 in the first grade of primary education.

7.1 Out-of-pocket childcare fees paid by parents

Pre-primary education in public and government dependent private schools for children from 3 to 5 years is free of charge.

There are a wide variety of situations throughout the different autonomous or local administrations regarding the expenditure, in centers that attend to children under 3 years of age, during the working day of their parents. Therefore it is difficult to estimate an average fee. Despite this, a relationship exists between the amount of fees paid by the families according to the level of income and/or the number and ages of children in care.

Almost all the Autonomous Communities have a specific allocation of public places that are subsidized and are, consequently, of lower cost for the families. The level of income of the family group is subject to the establishment of an appropriate fee. Furthermore, to determine the fees payable, a scale in function of various criterion is also established including if; a “family group” is based upon there being a lone-parent, there are siblings in the center, both parents work, etc.

It is difficult to generalize, but it could be considered that on average the parents paying for places in public centers pay 1/3 of the value for the place, and the remaining 2/3 is covered by civil services (local corporations, autonomous and/or central government).

In the private centers the family must pay the total cost.

For the mothers workers (and lone- parents) with children under 3 years, there are a general deduction in the tax on the income of individuals for a amount of EUR 1,200 per year. Some Autonomous Communities establish additional deductions for childcare fees of children under 3 years in centers.

8.1 Conditions for receipt

The new labor market reform enacted in June by Royal Decree-Law 10/2010, of June 16, converted into Law 35/2010 of 17 September, sets up a more rigorous and selective policy as regards the current social security contributions bonus system.

In this sense, the current SS contributions bonus system focuses on young people up to 30 years and in low-skilled workers of 45 year old with a prolonged unemployment stay. Alongside these two groups, the system maintains the previous regulation of the SS contributions bonus system directed to people with disabilities, new self-employed, labor market insertion companies and victims of gender violence, along with those that are intended to maintain the activity of workers over 59 years.

Additionally, since February 2011 the SS contributions bonus system is extensible to the part-time contract of young people until 30 years old and to the LTU and since August to the new contract for training and apprenticeship with young people of 20 to 25 years old without certificated qualifications.

The table below shows the current Social Security contributions bonus system in force since July 2010

12.1. Policies developed in 2011

In the framework of Law 35/2010, the so-called labor reform, has been carried out during 2011 to its development through the adoption of many laws in the labor market.

In this direction, the February 2, 2011 the Government and social partners signed the Social and Economic Agreement (SEA) for employment growth and guaranteed pensions.

The agreement was the result of social dialogue process developed over the last months of 2010 and early 2011. It is a comprehensive agreement with a long-term, whose ultimate goal is to strengthen economic and social Spanish economy base. Integrates a tripartite agreement to reform the public pension system, the active employment policy and industrial policy, energy and innovation, along with a bipartite agreement of social partners on the basic criteria for the reform of collective bargaining , while it takes a bipartite commitment of the Government and Trade Unions to open a dialogue process in the field of Public Administration.

In the area of employment there was the commitment to develop a Spanish Employment Strategy, coordinated by the Government, which define the actions to multi-year basis by the Public Employment Services, in response to structural problems observed in the labor market and contribute to the recovery of employment. The Strategy should be developed in the broader context of Europe 2020 Strategy and the National Reform Program and would be evaluated periodically. This Strategy has been approved finally by the Council of Ministers of October 28, 2011, and has been developed in collaboration with unions and employers' organizations.

In mid-February was regulated the so-called Emergency Plan, as an immediate response to promote the transition to stable employment for young people and LTU, by bonus his part-time contracts. It also approved the program for retraining the unemployed in this moment, the program PREPARA substitute the PRODI, and who have exhausted unemployment benefits, through a personalized itinerary and customized integration, along with financial assistance equivalent to 75% of IPREM (400 euros per month) for up to 6 months.

Then, with structural nature, it is approved the reform of active employment policies, on the principle of equal access, giving priority in the implementation of policies to groups with greater difficulties: young people, aged 45 years, people with disability and LTU, with special focus on women and the unemployed from the construction and those in social exclusion. It also provides, under of the SEA context, the approval of Spanish Employment Strategy before October 31, multi-year nature, which will reflect all the active employment policies, at state and regional level, accompanied by an Annual Plan which materialize the objectives of the Strategy.

In March entered into force the Sustainable Economy Act to promote economic growth and a more intensive production model in human capital that achieves high levels of productivity and competitiveness of the Spanish economy higher. The Act introduced major reforms in the vocational training system to facilitate the adaptation of the training offered to the demands of the productive system and expand the supply of vocational training. In addition, initiatives are set to streamline the updating of the National Catalogue of Professional Qualifications, the modules of the professional qualifications and professional certificates. It also promotes mobility between vocational high school and college. It is encouraged, in synthesis, an integrated offer of vocational training, social partner participation and greater collaboration with private companies.

In June, it is approved urgently, in the absence of agreement between social partners, a series of measures for the reform of collective bargaining in order to improve their management, in favor of collective bargaining closer to the enterprise, and introduce new levels of dynamism and agility both in the collective bargaining process and in its contents, so as to adapt to new business realities and to enhance internal flexibility negotiated.

In July, it proceeded to the management of vocational education system, linked directly to active employment policies and the promotion of free movement of workers. Vocational training is seen as a key instrument for moving towards a new model of economic growth, as pointed out in Sustainable Economy Act.

In early August it is approved the Act to incorporate to the Social Security system the commitments in respect of pensions in the Social and Economic Agreement incorporating, in turn, some of the recommendations of the new reformulation of the Toledo Pact.

In late August the new contract was approved for training and apprenticeship to promote employment of young people 16-25 years, temporarily up to 30 years without professional qualifications certificated. Also, it is extending an additional six months the program PREPARA and runs until the end of 2013 the FOGASA compensation by the payment of severance objective 8 days, waiting to be negotiated between the social partners the opportunity to regulate the creation of deferred Capital Fund.

Finally, the Spanish Strategy for Employment 2012-2014, recently approved and in force from November 21, 2011, is the current framework of employment policies under an integrated approach. The Strategy includes a set of actions and measures guidance, employment and training opportunities to improve access to employment, whether employed or self employed, the unemployed, job retention and career development of persons employed as well as the promotion of entrepreneurship and the social economy, while contributing to the strengthening and modernization of administrative services for development. ANNEX

DEFINITION OF SOCIAL SECURITY CONTRIBUTIONS AND PAYROLL TAXES..

The following text has been adapted from Annex A of the OECD Revenue Statistics.

Social security contributions to general government

Classified here are all compulsory payments that confer an entitlement to receive a (contingent) future social benefit. Such payments are usually earmarked to finance social benefits and are often paid to institutions of general government that provide such benefits. However, such earmarking is not part of the definition of social security contributions and is not required for a tax to be classified here. However, conferment of an entitlement is required for a tax to be classified under this heading. So, levies on income or payroll that are earmarked for social security funds but do not confer an entitlement to benefit are excluded from this heading and shown under personal income taxes or taxes on payroll and workforce. Taxes on other bases, such as goods and services, which are earmarked for social security benefits are not shown here [...] because they generally confer no entitlement to social security benefits.

Contributions for the following types of social security benefits would, inter alia, be included: unemployment insurance benefits and supplements, accident, injury and sickness benefits, old-age, disability and survivors' pensions, family allowances, reimbursements for medical and hospital expenses or provision of hospital or medical services. Contributions may be levied on both employees and employers.

Social security contributions paid to institutions outside general government

Contributions to social insurance schemes which are not institutions of general government and to other types of insurance schemes, provident funds, pension funds, friendly societies or other saving schemes [are included here if they are compulsory or quasicompulsory (e.g., by virtue of agreement with professional and union organisations)]. Provident funds are arrangements under which the contributions of each employee and of the corresponding employer on his/her behalf are kept in a separate account earning interest and withdrawable under specific circumstances. Pension funds are separately organised schemes negotiated between employees and employers and carry provisions for different contributions and benefits, sometimes more directly tied to salary levels and length of service than under social security schemes.

Payroll taxes

This heading covers taxes paid by employers or employees either as a proportion of payroll or as a fixed amount per person, and which do not confer entitlement to social benefits. Examples of taxes classified here are the United Kingdom national insurance surcharge (introduced in 1977), the Swedish payroll tax (1969-1979), and the Austrian Contribution to the Family Burden Equalisation Fund and Community Tax.
