1. Overview of the tax-benefit system

Unemployed persons are covered by two successive benefits: a contributory unemployment insurance benefit for 120-to-720 days depending on contributions, then an assistance benefit for 3-to-30 months. (The most common duration of unemployment assistance is 18 months, and for persons over 55 the duration is that necessary to arrive to the age in which he/she starts receiving the contributory retirement pension.) There is also a last resort scheme called the Renta Mínima de Inserción (Minimum Income for Insertion). Family benefits are income-related. The tax unit is the individual; nevertheless family units have the option of filing their tax returns on a joint basis. Finally, there is the programme named Programa de Renta Activa de Inserción (Insertion Active Income Programme), whose objective is to help long-term job seekers, older than 45, among other groups, to re-enter in the labour market. This programme lasts for 11 months.

1.1. Average Worker wage (AW)

The 2013 AW level is EUR 26 027.¹

2. Unemployment insurance

2.1 Conditions for receipt

Unemployment benefit can be paid to a registered unemployed person aged 16-65, who is available and actively seeking work, and who did not leave his/her previous job voluntarily. Additionally, unemployed persons have to subscribe to a pledge of activity by virtue of which they commit themselves to search actively for a job and to accept a suitable job.

On all the levels of protection by unemployment either the unemployment insurance one or the unemployment assistance one and in their different categories, applicant and beneficiary workers of the benefit by unemployment are obliged to sign and comply with an a "commitment of activity", understanding by such a to look for a job actively, to accept a placement suitable and to take part in actions addressed to raise their employment, in accordance with Law 45/2002, of 12 December (Article Firstly Eleven). This condition must be gathering as a requirement to have the right to any of the benefits considered within the protection system by unemployment.

The benefit is limited by a maximum and a minimum that depend on the number of dependent children below age 26. Both are expressed as a percentage of the IPREM (public indicator of incomes of many effects) from 01/07/2004, with an increment of 1/6 (proportional to bonus payment). For 2013,

¹ AW refers to the Average Wage estimated by the Centre for Tax Policy and Administration (www.oecd.org/ctp). For more information on methodology see Taxing Wages 2009-2010, OECD, 2011, part 4, sections 2 and 3.

4. Social assistance

There is a minimum income scheme called the Ingreso Mínimo/Renta Mínima de Inserción (Minimum Income for Insertion - MII) implemented in the 17 Autonomous Communities (regions). There is no specific national legislation defining it, but the general principle is to alleviate poverty by means of cash benefits for basic living needs. Each Autonomous Community has its specific law regulating the MII. In the year 2012 the basic amount for the holder of the MII is 420,55 €/per month and the budget spent: 854 748 514.34 €

The number of holders in the year 2012 was: 217358; the number of dependent members: 339499.

The MII consists of periodical subsidies, but with a specific duration (periodical renewal is required), provided that the requisites are maintained and fulfilled the compromise acquired in the corresponding agreement signed for his/her social and labour integration and following the measures of social on-going support established with every claimant.

The monetary amount is annually updated; as well as every year the funds are allocated in the budget through general laws of each Autonomous Community for financing the MII.

The region of Madrid is considered below as being representative:

The basic amount for the holder is 375.55 € per month and the budget spent: 84 610 000 € in the year 2012.

4.1 Conditions for receipt

The claimant must be available and actively seeking work. The minimum age is 25 or less if the claimant has dependants (although it can be 18 in certain regions), and the maximum age is 64 (old-age pension from 65). Qualifying households must pass an income test.

The claimants, who participate in social and labour measures for integration and in the social on-going support measures which are established with each claimant, receive a monthly income supplement.

In the region of Madrid the claimant is older than 25 and younger than 65. He or she has to be registered in the municipality of the region during the previous year of the application, set up an independent nuclear family 6 months previously, and lack of sufficient economic resources to face the basic needs for living.

Qualifying households must pass an income test, and they cannot have incomes in 2013 over the following amounts:

7. Childcare for pre-school children

Pre-primary education is conceived as a single education-oriented level with structural and curricular development similar to the rest of educational levels in Spain. It caters for children from 0 to 6 years and it is divided into two three-year stages. The second stage (children aged 3 to 6) is free of charge both in public and government dependent private schools.

In 2012/2013, the net enrolment rate in pre-primary education is 31.0 % (437279 children) for the under 3 years and concerns 96.7 % (1462894 children) of children from 3 to 5 years (Source: Non-university education Statistics - Provisional data 2012-2013. Ministry of Education, Culture and Sport)

There is also care provision for children outside the education system. In 2012 the 46.3 % of under 3 years children received care provision in an institution outside of their household (Source: Community Statistics on Income and Living Conditions – National Institute of Statistics/Eurostat)

A progressive increase of the places was offered for integrated education and care for children aged 0 to 3 and their inclusion in the education system as a measure of the National Reform Program. In this way, the Ministry of Education developed the Plan Educa3, in order to increase the places offered and their inclusion in the education system. Between 2008 and 2011, 386,6 million euros were allocated by the Ministry of Education for Pre-Primary Education for building new pre-primary school and adapting existing schools.

Compulsory schooling starts at age 6 in the first grade of primary education.

7.1 Out-of-pocket childcare fees paid by parents

Full-time childcare

Pre-primary education in public and government dependent private schools for children from 3 to 5 years is free of charge.

There are a wide variety of situations throughout the different autonomous or local administrations regarding the expenditure, in centers that attend to children under 3 years of age, during the working day of their parents. Therefore it is difficult to estimate an average fee. Despite this, a relationship exists between the amount of fees paid by the families according to the level of income and/or the number and ages of children in care.

Almost all the Autonomous Communities have a specific allocation of public places that are subsidized and are, consequently, of lower cost for the families. The level of income of the family group is subject to the establishment of an appropriate fee. Furthermore, to determine the fees payable, a scale in function of various criterion is also established including if; a “family group” is based upon there being a lone-parent, there are siblings in the center, both parents work, etc.

It is difficult to generalize, but it could be considered that on average the parents paying for places in public centers pay 1/3 of the value for the place, and the remaining 2/3 is covered by civil services (local corporations, autonomous and/or central government).

In the private centers the family must pay the total cost.

For the mothers workers (and lone- parents) with children under 3 years, there are a general deduction in the tax on the income of individuals for an amount of EUR 1,200 per year. Some Autonomous Communities establish additional deductions for childcare fees of children under 3 years in centers.

7.2.4 Treatment of particular groups

7.3 Child care allowance for children not using child care centers

8. Employment-conditional benefits

8.1 Conditions for receipt

The new labour market reform enacted in February by Royal Decree-Law 3/2012, of February 10, converted into Law 3/2012 of 6 July, sets up a more rigorous and selective policy as regards the current social security contributions bonus system.

In this sense, the current SS contributions bonus system focuses on young people up to 30 years and in low-skilled workers of 45 year old with a prolonged unemployment stay. Alongside these two groups, the system maintains the previous regulation of the SS contributions bonus system directed to people with disabilities, new self-employed, labour market insertion companies and victims of gender violence, along with those that are intended to maintain the activity of workers over 59 years.

Since August of 2011 the bonifications are extensibles to the new contract for training and apprenticeship with young people of 20 to 25 years old without certificated qualifications, exceptionally until 30 years old. Recently, the Royal Decree 1529/2012, of November 8 regulate this contract and the dual training for young people.

The table below shows the current Social Security contributions bonus system in force since February of 2013:

10. Tax system

10.1 Income tax

10.1.1 Tax allowances and credits

10.1.1.1 Standard allowances

Basic reliefs: Married couples filing jointly may claim an allowance of EUR 3 400. This figure amounts to EUR 2 150 for heads of households.

Maternity tax credit: a non-wastable tax credit addressed to working females with children under 3 years of age up to EUR 1 200

Relief for social security contributions: All these payments are fully deductible.

Work related expenses: Net work income (gross income less employee social security contributions) may be reduced according to the following rules:

- Taxpayers with net employment income equal or less than EUR 9 180: EUR 4 080
- For those with a net employment income between EUR 9 180.01 and EUR 13 260: EUR 4080 less the result of multiplying by 0.35 the difference between net income and EUR 9180.
- Taxpayers with net income over EUR 13 260 or non employment income over EUR 6 500: EUR 2 652.
- Work related tax deduction: working taxpayers with a tax base under EUR 8 000 may deduct EUR 400. The amount is phased-out as taxpayer's tax base increases according to the following formula: $\text{EUR } 400 - 0,1 * (\text{tax base} - \text{EUR } 8\,000,01)$, reaching a zero value when taxpayer's tax base reaches EUR 12 000. Prior amount will not exceed the result of applying the average tax rate to net work income less work related expenses allowance

As a result of the application of the above rules, net income cannot become negative.

- Child care allowance: an additional allowance of EUR 2 244 for each of the above dependent children under 3 years of age.

Child allowances have to be shared equally between spouses when they file separately.

12. Policy developments

12.1 Policy changes introduced: 2nd July 2012 – 1st July 2013

The 2013 Spain National Reform Programme constitutes the frame of reference of the economic policy and employment by 2013. Labour involved to move forward in the development of the labor reform of 2012 and its follow-up, improving the effectiveness of active policies of employment and social inclusion active policies. In this sense, it is developing a new strategy to improve employability through training, particularly of young people, at the same time promoted the young enterprise, along with the broader objective of improving the labour intermediation to improve the employability of the unemployed people.

The main policies developed are synthesized in the following actions:

- The review of active employment policies under a new strategy to improve employability, in particular of young people based on the following five major lines of action: the development of the 2013 annual Employment Policy Plan, on a new model of programming, evaluation and financial the active policies; the promotion of employability through training on the basis of the new contract for training and learning, the implementation of a system of dual vocational training, which will have a new strategy of development 2013-2015; linking active and passive employment policies to promote the activation of the unemployed people; improving the labour intermediation through the implementation of a "Unique Job Portal" and the development of public and private collaboration and, finally, the promotion of employment and entrepreneurship young through the implementation of the 2013-2016 Entrepreneurship and Youth Employment Strategy to reduce youth unemployment, encouraging the employment or self-employed of young people, resulting from a process of social dialogue with the social partners.
- Monitoring of the labour market reform of 2012 from the evaluation of their impact. Last August the Ministry of Employment and Social Security presented an internal evaluation report which highlighted that labour reform would have avoided the loss of 225,000 jobs during the first year of its term, while it has helped reduce the "threshold of growth for job creation" to the environment of the 1%, traditionally most high, upper than the 2%. In December the OECD has presented his report of external evaluation, commissioned by the Government.

12.2 Future policy changes announced in 2013

ANNEX

DEFINITION OF SOCIAL SECURITY CONTRIBUTIONS AND PAYROLL TAXES..

The following text has been adapted from Annex A of the OECD Revenue Statistics.

Social security contributions to general government

Classified here are all compulsory payments that confer an entitlement to receive a (contingent) future social benefit. Such payments are usually earmarked to finance social benefits and are often paid to institutions of general government that provide such benefits. However, such earmarking is not part of the definition of social security contributions and is not required for a tax to be classified here. However, conferment of an entitlement is required for a tax to be classified under this heading. So, levies on income or payroll that are earmarked for social security funds but do not confer an entitlement to benefit are excluded from this heading and shown under personal income taxes or taxes on payroll and workforce. Taxes on other bases, such as goods and services, which are earmarked for social security benefits are not shown here [...] because they generally confer no entitlement to social security benefits.

Contributions for the following types of social security benefits would, inter alia, be included: unemployment insurance benefits and supplements, accident, injury and sickness benefits, old-age, disability and survivors' pensions, family allowances, reimbursements for medical and hospital expenses or provision of hospital or medical services. Contributions may be levied on both employees and employers.

Social security contributions paid to institutions outside general government

Contributions to social insurance schemes which are not institutions of general government and to other types of insurance schemes, provident funds, pension funds, friendly societies or other saving schemes [are included here if they are compulsory or quasicompulsory (e.g., by virtue of agreement with professional and union organisations)]. Provident funds are arrangements under which the contributions of each employee and of the corresponding employer on his/her behalf are kept in a separate account earning interest and withdrawable under specific circumstances. Pension funds are separately organised schemes negotiated between employees and employers and carry provisions for different contributions and benefits, sometimes more directly tied to salary levels and length of service than under social security schemes.

Payroll taxes

This heading covers taxes paid by employers or employees either as a proportion of payroll or as a fixed amount per person, and which do not confer entitlement to social benefits. Examples of taxes classified here are the United Kingdom national insurance surcharge (introduced in 1977), the Swedish payroll tax (1969-1979), and the Austrian Contribution to the Family Burden Equalisation Fund and Community Tax.
